Key Person Insurance

How Does it Work?

To ensure money will be available in the event of a partner's death, a life insurance policy is purchased by the parties involved. The proceeds from the life insurance policy are used to purchase a portion of the deceased's business interest.

- Purchase a life insurance policy on the key employee
- Pay the premium and make the company the beneficiary of the policy
- The company receives the insurance proceeds if that person unexpectedly dies
- The company can use the money for expenses until it can find a replacement person
- Key person insurance gives the company options other than bankruptcy

leadership important to the business' continued success

Buy / Sell Insurance

How Does it Work?

To ensure money will be available in the event of a partner's death, a life insurance policy is purchased by the parties involved. The proceeds from the life insurance policy are used to purchase a portion of the deceased's business interest.

Buy and Sell Insurance may be used by sole proprietorships or partnerships to divide the business share of a proprietor or partner. If the partner dies, the agreement requires that the business share is sold to the company or to the remaining members of the business.
